Included are:

- a. Circular of Czechoslovakian Ministry for Foreign Trade, dated 8 April 1946. The circular and its inclosed list specify prices for goods imported from Yugoslavia under an agreement apparently reached in 1945. This document does not appear to have any direct connection with those following.
- b. Barter Agreement concluded 30 September 1946. It is not clear whether this is a draft agreement the terms of which eventually became incorporated in the agreement of 25 February 1947, or whether it is simply a separate, prior agreement adumbrating the later pact.
- c. Agreement of 30 September 1946 concerning arrangements for payment for bartered goods. This implements the Barter Agreement of 30 September 1946.
- d. Agreement of 30 September 1946 on settlement of expenses for travel and subsidies in connection with the foregoing.
- e. Circular of Czechoslovakian Ministry for Foreign Trade, dated 22 October 1946. This directive and its inclosed Lists A, B, and C implement the Agreement of 30 September 1946. Source says that List A of this Circular is the same List A which was a component of the Agreement of 25 February 1947, and which was not furnished with the text of that document. 25X1A
Comment: [redacted] contains
List A of the 25 February 1947 agreement, giving only Kcs values of all categories, whereas totals are given in List A of the present report in tons, cubic meters, etc. This comparison of the two lists is difficult; however, they do not seem to be the same list.)

Protocol No. 30152/IV 1946

Subject: Exchange of Goods with Yugoslavia

Price Agreement

Incl: 1.

Prague, 8 April 1946

Circular No. 13/1946

The joint Czechoslovak-Yugoslav Commission agreed to the following in their meeting on 28 March 1946:

1. The prices of the goods which are imported into the Republic of Czechoslovakia from Yugoslavia are figured f.o.b. the Yugoslav border according to the enclosures.
2. The goods which Yugoslavia imports from Czechoslovakia are computed f.o.b. the Czechoslovakian border at normal export prices which are the wholesale trade prices after subtraction of the consumer tax (which is included in the wholesale prices in the Republic of Czechoslovakia). The prices for exports from Yugoslavia under Section 1 above are established on the supposition that the export prices in Czechoslovakia will not be increased, except for confirmed price corrections, until the import and export quotas have been fulfilled.
3. At the next meeting of the joint commission, which will take place in the near future in Belgrade, the following matters will be discussed:
 - a. Establishing prices for List B, for those goods which do not come under 1.
 - b. Increasing the established quotas in List B.
 - c. Including new goods in Lists A and B as well as determining their quantities and prices.
4. After points 1 and 2 of this document, all points concerning business agreements made and not carried out to date, will take precedence on the basis of Protocol I of 28 November 1945.

I request the officials concerned to abide by this price agreement when they decide on import and export licenses in trade with the Democratic Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia. Information acquired in the execution of this agreement is to be reported to Superior Councillor VEJVAR, who is the Czechoslovakian representative on the joint commission. Any proposals or requests to be brought up at the meeting in Belgrade, in accordance with Point 3, are to be turned over to him by the 12th of this month.

This circular completes the stipulations of Circular 13/1945.

Barter agreement between the Republic of Czechoslovakia and the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The Government of the Republic of Czechoslovakia and the Government of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia, led by the desire to establish and promote mutual trade relations on a mutually friendly basis, have agreed to the following:

Article 1.

With the exception of tariff stipulations, which do not reflect the economic situation, changed by war and occupation, both parties to the agreement regard the trade and payment treaty of 14 November 1928 as a valid regulation of common trade relations, insofar as neither party wishes to make new agreements which are better adapted to the necessity for the closest possible economic cooperation between both countries.

Article 2.

The competent authorities of the Republic of Czechoslovakia agree to export to the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia the quantities or equivalent value of goods specified in List A attached. The competent officials of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia will grant a suitable authorization for import. The competent officials of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia agree to export to the Republic of Czechoslovakia the quantities or equivalent value of goods in Lists B and C attached. The competent officials of the Republic of Czechoslovakia will grant the necessary import license.

Article 3.

Both parties will do everything necessary to insure delivery on time and in full quantity of all the goods set forth in attached Lists A, B, and C.

Article 4.

The delegates of both parties will meet in January 1947 to study the situation and developments to that date in order to simplify and increase the exchange of goods between the two countries.

Article 5.

Goods of Czechoslovakian origin which are exported to the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia in accordance with this agreement are to be delivered f.o.b. Czechoslovakian border or f.o.b. Czechoslovakian Danube harbors. Goods of Yugoslav origin exported to Czechoslovakia in accordance with this agreement are to be delivered f.o.b. Yugoslav border or f.o.b. Yugoslav river or sea harbors.

Article 6.

Neither party will enter into any barter agreements which would affect the established quotas in attached Lists A, B, and C.

Article 7.~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

The method of payment in connection with the exchange of goods is established in the settlement agreement, which is an integral part of the Barter Agreement.

Article 8.

In the event that the value of the goods delivered by one party exceeds the value of the goods delivered by the second party by 300 million Kčs (Czechoslovakian Crowns), the joint commission established by Article 11 of this Agreement will suggest the method and conditions of attaining a balance in the mutual exchange of goods.

CONFIDENTIAL

Article 9.

Each party will appoint a special plenipotentiary to carry out the exchange. The duties of the plenipotentiary are as follows:

- a. to make speedy provision for removing all difficulties arising from the exchange of goods, especially with regard to prices.
- b. to see to it that the mutual transactions between the importers and exporters of both countries are carried on in the speediest possible manner.
- c. to see to it that the goods are delivered within the period of time established, and in accordance with the other treaty stipulations.

Within 30 days after this agreement becomes valid, the contracting parties will inform each other of the appointment of this special plenipotentiary.

Article 10.

The prices at which the goods in the attached lists are to be delivered, are agreed upon between the exporters and importers of both countries. In the event that serious disagreement over prices should arise, the special plenipotentiary of the exporting country and the commercial attaché of the importing country, will settle the disagreement. In the event that the disagreement is not settled within 10 days from the time it is turned over to the commercial attaché and the special plenipotentiary, the matter is to be referred to the Ministers for Foreign Trade of both countries.

Article 11.

There are to be established joint commissions with the following duties:

- a. to examine the execution of the exchange from time to time, and to make suggestions for the improvement and increase of the exchange of goods and payment between both countries; to make suggestions for removing difficulties, if they should arise in the exchange of goods.
- b. both special plenipotentiaries, as well as two other persons appointed by both parties, are members of the joint commission.

The joint commission is to be formed 10 days after this agreement is signed. The commission will convene regularly every four months, and more often if necessary, at a meeting-place to be agreed upon.

Article 12.

In Lists A and B, there are sections entitled "miscellaneous goods", which are intended to include goods not named in either of the lists; however, if both parties agree, these sections may also include goods mentioned elsewhere in lists A and B.

Article 13.

The goods specified in List C are to serve primarily for balancing the account which arose from the exchange of goods between both countries as a result of the Barter Protocol of 28 November 1945. Both parties are to do everything necessary so that the export of these goods from the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia to the Republic of Czechoslovakia may be effected by 31 March 1947.

CONFIDENTIALArticle 14.

This Agreement is valid from the day it is signed until 31 August 1947. In the event that no new barter agreement shall have been made by this time, the validity of this Agreement is extended for three months, during which time both parties are to agree on the method and conditions of settling accounts.

Article 15.

This Agreement is drawn up in two original copies identical in content in the Czech and Serbo-Croatian languages.

Agreement between Czechoslovakia and the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia concerning Payment for Goods.

The Government of Czechoslovakia and the Government of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia have agreed on the following with regard to settlement for goods:

CONFIDENTIALArticle 1.

The Czechoslovakian National Bank will continue the tax-free Kcs-account in the name of the National Bank of the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia, which was established on the basis of the Goods-Settlement Agreement of 28 November 1945. Payment for goods imported from Yugoslavia and for allied incidental expenses will be made into this account. Payment for goods to Yugoslavia and for allied incidental expenses will be made from this account.

Article 2.

The National Banks of both parties obligate themselves on instructions from the other party, to effect payments without regard to the status of the account; however, the account may not be overdrawn by more than 300,000,000 Kcs.

Article 3.

Upon prior agreement by both Banks, payments other than those mentioned in Article 1 may be made from the account.

Article 4.

In the event that the account mentioned in Article 1, shows a debit or credit balance after the validity of this Agreement has expired, such balance will be settled by means of goods deliveries in accordance with the stipulations of the Barter Agreement.

Article 5.

Both National Banks will agree on the necessary technical procedures for carrying out this Agreement properly.

Article 6.

For payments to or from the account according to Article 1, the foreign exchange regulations of the country concerned are valid.

Article 7.

This Agreement takes effect on the day it is signed and is valid for the duration of the Barter Agreement, of which it represents an integral part. This Agreement is drawn up in two original copies identical in content in the Czech and Serbo-Croatian languages.

Protocol No. 129,724/IV 1946

Subject: Exchange of Goods with Yugoslavia

Item: 3.

Prague, 29 October 1946

C o n f i d e n t i a lCircular No. 52/1946

On 30 September 1946 in Prague, the Republic of Czechoslovakia and the Federated Peoples' Republic of Yugoslavia signed a new Agreement regulating trade and payment. The Agreement is valid from the day it was signed until 31 August 1947. It has three appended lists: List A (export), List B (import), and List C (imports to liquidate the balance carried forward from the former Agreement). The lists are confidential and are not to be published.

The licensing official and Dr. JUNGWIRTH or H. FISCHER of the Trade Political Division IV/4, make decisions in the event of uncertainty. The licensing official and the Trade Political Division IV/L make decisions when the question concerns quotas for "miscellaneous goods".

The Agreement specifies that the quotas are to be fulfilled completely and on time.

The exports are to be licensed only within the limits of the quotas. Otherwise the regulations in Circular No. 50/1946 are valid.

Of the imports, the quotas on List C are to be fulfilled first. List C should be fulfilled by 31 March 1947.

Export licenses which are granted on or after 1 October 1946 are to be charged to the new Agreement.

Goods of Czechoslovakian origin which are exported to Yugoslavia in accordance with this Agreement, are delivered f.o.b. Czechoslovakian border or f.o.b. Czechoslovakian Danube ports. Goods of Yugoslav origin which are exported to the Republic of Czechoslovakia in accordance with this Agreement, are delivered f.o.b. Yugoslav border or f.o.b. Yugoslav river or sea ports.

Further permits will be granted which would increase the quotas in Lists A, B, and C.

Each party to the Agreement is to appoint a special plenipotentiary to supervise the proper fulfillment of this agreement. His duties are: to take measures for overcoming all difficulties which might come up; to see to it that the deliveries are made in accordance with the terms; and to see to it that both parties abide by the regulations of the Agreement. If serious difficulties arise in establishing prices, a decision is made by the plenipotentiary of the exporting country in agreement with the commercial attaché of the importing country. If a decision is not reached within ten days, the matter is turned over to the Ministers of Foreign Trade of both countries. Otherwise, the prices of the goods delivered in accordance with the lists are determined by the importers and exporters of both countries. In the case of export, the normal export prices, and in the case of import, the competitive prices, are used in establishing the prices for the goods on the lists.

The payment agreement which was made at the same time specifies that the payments are to be made by means of clearing arrangements. The payments for the goods and incidental expenses of export and import are to be made through the National Banks of the Republics of Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia without regard to the status of the account which was set up in accordance with this Agreement, as long as the value of the goods delivered by one party is not over 300,000,000 Kčs more than the value of the goods delivered by the other party.

With regard to keeping the records of the imports and exports licensed, the previous stipulations are valid. Each month the statistical office will make a summary of the current status of the quotas. Therefore, the ordinal numbers of the quotas should be indicated on all correspondence intended for the statistical office.

Information concerning developments in the execution of this Agreement, and suggestions for eventual changes, should be submitted to Division IV/I.
